National Anthem

THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER

Oh, say, can you see,
By the dawn's early light
What so proudly we hailed
At the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars,
Thro' the perilous fight
O'er the ramparts we watched,
Were so gallantly streaming.
And the rockets' red glare,
The bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night
That our flag was still there.
Oh, say, does that star-spangled
Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free
And the home of the brave?

— Francis Scott Key

Alma Mater

GLORY LA SALLE

Above Explorers valiant,
Here under thine eyes,
Thy blue and gold banners
Unfurl 'neath the skies!

Chorus:
La Salle, La Salle, thy glory,
Thy triumphs we praise!
Thy name in song forever
Shall we proudly raise!

Thy sons and daughters standing
Await thy command,
Thou fortress of faith
In our God and our land!

Chorus:
La Salle, La Salle, thy glory,
Thy triumphs we praise!
Thy name in song forever
Shall we proudly raise!

— Daniel J. Rodden

Honorary Degree

James J. Lynch, '71
Doctor of Humane Letters

Presented by

William R. Sautter, CPA, '71
Chairman, La Salle University Board of Trustees

James J. Lynch, '71, is a founding partner of Patriot Financial Partners and the immediate past Chairman of La Salle University's Board of Trustees. He has been a vital contributor to the banking industry for nearly 40 years, as well as an active and dedicated leader in several professional, civic, and charitable organizations.

Lynch began his banking career as a part-time employee at First Pennsylvania Bank in 1968, while he was a student at La Salle. He earned a bachelor's degree in marketing from La Salle in 1971 and has completed graduate courses in finance at Drexel University.

Prior to joining Patriot Financial Partners, a private equity investment fund focusing on investments in community banking, Lynch served as Vice Chairman of Sovereign Bancorp; Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Sovereign Bank—Mid-Atlantic Division; President and Chief Executive Officer of Fleet Bank in Pennsylvania and Southern New Jersey; Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Summit Bank in Pennsylvania; Senior Executive Vice President at Summit Bancorp; Chairman, President, and Chief Executive Officer of Prime Bancorp and Prime Bank; Executive Vice President of Midlantic Bank; and President and Vice Chairman of Continental Bank.

He has been named Banker of the Year by the Philadelphia chapter of the Risk Management Association for his contributions to the commercial lending profession.

Lynch has also received numerous awards and accolades for his service to his community and to his high school and college alma maters. A longtime member of La Salle's Board of Trustees and Chairman of the Board from 2000 to 2005, Lynch was awarded the Alumni Association's John J. Finley, '24, Award, for his dedication to La Salle, and the University's Leadership Award, for his contributions to his profession and his community. He has also been inducted into the halls of fame for Father Judge High School and the Archdiocese of Philadelphia Catholic Youth Organization.

Among other honors, Lynch has received the Richard J. Caron Award of Excellence from the Caron Foundation, the Boys and Girls Club of Philadelphia Touching a Life Award, and the Philadelphia Eagles Fly for Leukemia Lifetime Achievement Award.

He is active in several professional and civic organizations, including Holy Redeemer Health System, the United Way of Southeastern Pennsylvania, The Reinvestment Fund, the Special Olympics of Pennsylvania, and La Salle Academy, a private elementary school serving economically disadvantaged children in Philadelphia.

Lynch lives in Lafayette Hill, Pa., with his wife, Kathleen.

DOCTOR OF PSYCHOLOGY IN CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGY

Sarah Rachel Anghelone

B.A., University of Delaware, 2000, Psychology
M.A., Boston University, 2001, Psychology
M.A., La Salle University, 2007, Clinical Psychology

Sarah Anghelone is currently completing her clinical internship at MercyFirst. She provides evidenced based treatment to adolescent females in the foster care system. Sarah's clinical dissertation was chaired by Dr. Randy Fingerhut, and is entitled "Experiential Avoidance as a Predictor of Postpartum Depression and Bonding Difficulties." She has presented at the Association for Behavioral and Cognitive Therapies and the Pennsylvania Psychological Association Annual Conventions. Sarah is looking forward to continuing her work with adolescents in residential or group home settings. She also intends to focus on adolescent gang related activity as well as involvement in the foster care system. Sarah also hopes to become involved in foster care advocacy.

Rachel M. Daltry

B.S., St. Joseph's University, 2004, Psychology
M.S., St. Joseph's University, 2005, Experimental Psychology
M.A., La Salle University, 2007, Clinical Psychology

Rachel Daltry is currently completing her clinical internship at the University of Delaware's Center for Counseling and Student Development. There she provides both individual and group therapy to undergraduate and graduate students. She also provides outreach and consultation on suicide prevention to the university community, including students, staff, and faculty as part of a university grant. Rachel's clinical dissertation entitled "The Impact of Gender Role Conflict on the Quality of Life in Female Athletes" was chaired by Dr. Frank Gardner and successfully defended on April 1, 2009. Rachel is currently preparing the paper for publication. Rachel's research and clinical interests include working with student-athletes regarding performance enhancement as well as mental health issues.

Michael Paul Ferenschak

B.A., La Salle University, 2004, Psychology
M.A., La Salle University, 2006, Clinical Psychology

Mike Ferenschak is completing his predoctoral internship at the Bay Pines VA Health Care System in Bay Pines, Florida. At Bay Pines, he is providing evidence-based treatments to veterans suffering from a variety of psychological disorders. Mike has a special interest in anxiety disorders, particularly posttraumatic stress disorder (PTSD). While at Bay Pines, he has treated PTSD on rotations dedicated to combat-related trauma and military sexual trauma. His earlier practicum experiences at Camden County Health Services Center and the University of Pennsylvania's Center for the Treatment and Study of Anxiety under Dr. Edna Foa helped encourage his interest in PTSD. Mike's dissertation, chaired by Dr. Frank Gardner, and entitled "An Acceptance Versus Self-Talk Rationale on Weightlifting Performance," reflects his other interests in acceptance-based therapies and sport psychology. Mike has accepted a postdoctoral fellowship at the VA Maryland Health Care System, where he will work with returning veterans with PTSD. He plans to continue to work in the VA system following his fellowship.

Sarah Johanna Fink

B.A., Bucknell University, 2005, Psychology/Spanish
M.A., La Salle University 2007, Clinical Psychology

Sarah Fink is currently completing her clinical internship at the VA New York Harbor Healthcare System – Manhattan Campus. There she provides evidence-based treatments to veterans with a wide range of psychological disorders. Throughout her graduate training, Sarah has developed a specialized interest in treating patients with co-morbid psychological and medical difficulties. Her interest in health psychology lead to the development of her dissertation, chaired by Dr. Erin O'Hea, in which she examined experiential avoidance as a moderator of the relationship between breast cancer anxiety and mammography rates. This past December, she successfully defended her dissertation and is currently preparing her manuscript for publication. In the future, Sarah hopes to develop a combined academic and clinical career in health psychology.

Kelly Anne Foran

B.A., Lafayette College, 2005, Psychology
M.A., La Salle University, 2007, Clinical Psychology

Kelly is currently completing her APA-accredited clinical internship in health psychology at Yale University School of Medicine. At Yale, she has been afforded the opportunity to provide empirically supported behavioral medicine interventions to patients coping with chronic illnesses. She has gained specialized clinical experience, providing Behavioral and Cognitive Behavioral interventions and support to patients within the Liver Transplant Clinic, Neurology Service, and the Oncology Service. Kelly's research interests include the psychological sequela that accompany a patient's diagnosis of a chronic illness, specifically cancer. Kelly's dissertation, chaired by Dr. Erin O'Hea, entitled "Posttraumatic stress symptoms in children of mothers diagnosed with breast cancer" was successfully defended in November and is being prepared for submission for publication. During her graduate career, Kelly has co-authored three peer-reviewed publications and has presented at numerous psychological conferences. She has accepted an APA-accredited post-doctoral fellowship at the West Haven VAMC in West Haven, CT., where she will continue to develop clinical and research expertise in health psychology.

David Manuel Gomez

B.A., Rutgers University, 2004, Psychology
M.A., La Salle University, 2006, Clinical Psychology

David M. Gomez completed his clinical internship at the Federal Correctional Complex in Butner, North Carolina in forensic and correctional psychology. He provided assessment, consultation, and treatment to a population incarcerated by the Federal government. Specifically, he gained specialized training in court-ordered forensic assessments. David has presented at several national psychology conferences. His Clinical Dissertation, chaired by Dr. Kelly McClure is entitled, "The Development and Initial Validation of a Vignette Measure of Mindfulness."

Amy Elizabeth Gooding

B.A., La Salle University 2005, Psychology
M.A., La Salle University, 2007, Clinical Psychology

Amy Gooding is currently completing her clinical internship at Belmont Center for Comprehensive Treatment. She provides individual and group therapy to adults with a variety of mental health difficulties including trauma, anxiety, depression, eating disorders, and chronic pain. She also works with children with behavioral problems. While at La Salle, Amy received specialized training in working with athletes. Amy's doctoral dissertation, chaired by Dr. Frank Gardner and entitled "Predicting Free Throw Success: An Investigational Study into the Factors Contributing to Performance" examined the role of anxiety, consistency of the basketball pre shot routine and mindfulness on game and practice performance. She successfully defended her dissertation in 2009. Her dissertation results were presented at the annual conference of the Association of Applied Sport Psychology and were published in the Journal of Clinical Sport Psychology in December of 2009. Upon completion of her internship, she will begin her post doctoral fellowship at the Center for Eating Disorders at Sheppard Pratt in Baltimore, MD.

Jacqueline Marie Halpern

B.A., Alfred University, 2004, Psychology
M.A., La Salle University 2006, Clinical Psychology

Jacqueline Halpern is currently completing her clinical internship at the Syracuse VA Medical Center. There she provides empirically supported treatments to Veterans struggling with a variety of psychological disorders. During her time at the VA, she has gained specialized training in treating individuals dealing with post-traumatic stress disorder and depression. Jackie's research interests include empirically supported treatments for anxiety disorders and exploring anger disorders and emotion regulation. Jackie's clinical dissertation, chaired by Dr. Frank Gardner, entitled "Anger Experience and Expression as Predictors of Emotion Regulation Style" was successfully defended in December 2008 and is being prepared for submission for publication. Jackie has presented her research at numerous psychological conferences and hopes to continue to be active in research in the future.

Alexandra Leigh Marks

B.A., University of Richmond, 2005, Criminal Justice/Psychology
M.A., La Salle University, 2007, Clinical Psychology

Alexandra Marks is currently completing her clinical internship with the Wisconsin Department of Corrections. She provides short and long-term individual treatment to incarcerated men and women with a wide range of mental illness. She also leads psychoeducational groups and provides group sex offender therapy. She recently began a specialized assessment rotation at a correctional treatment center. Alexandra's clinical dissertation, chaired by Dr. Frank Gardner, is entitled "Comparing Emotion Regulation Styles in Adolescent Sex Offenders and Their Parents: A Pilot Study." Alexandra plans to continue working in corrections after completion of her internship.

Kimberly Leverne Napier

B.A., University of Chicago, 1999, Psychology
M.A., La Salle University, 2005, Clinical Psychology

Kimberly Napier has completed her clinical fellowship at St. Luke's-Roosevelt Hospital Center. There she provided psychological treatment to a diverse population of children, adolescents and their families. At St. Luke's-Roosevelt, Kimberly gained specialized skills in dyadic therapy for at-risk mothers and infants. In addition, Kimberly functioned as a team leader for a school based mental health clinic where she engaged in extensive program development and provided consultation and education to school staff. Kimberly completed her predoctoral internship at the University of Medicine and Dentistry where she delivered empirically supported and culturally competent interventions to children and families with complex mental health and psychosocial issues, conducted comprehensive psychological assessments and acted as a consultant within urban public schools to identify children exposed to violence, substance abuse or trauma. It was during her predoctoral internship that Kimberly received specialized training in forensic psychology at the Edna Mahan Correctional Facility. Kimberly's clinical dissertation, chaired by Dr. Susan Panichelli-Mindel, is entitled "Parental Awareness of and Attitude about Relational Aggression within an Urban African American School Setting." Kimberly has presented at national psychology conferences related to her dissertation topic and is excited to continue her career in child psychology and school based mental health.

Casey Elizabeth Pabian

B.S., Union College, 2004, Psychology
M.A., La Salle University, 2006, Clinical Psychology

Casey Pabian is currently completing her clinical internship at the Greater Hartford Clinical Psychology Consortium; a consortium between the Connecticut Veterans Association, the UCONN Health Center, and Community Mental Health Affiliates, Inc. in the Hartford, Connecticut area. There she has worked with veterans from many theatres, adolescent boys at an elite boarding school, and women diverted to mental health treatment through a jail diversion trauma program. She has specifically enjoyed working with trauma issues across these many groups of clients. During this time, Casey has continued to pursue her interest in mindfulness and acceptance based treatments and has designed group interventions to address anger from a mindfulness/acceptance based approach. Casey's research interests include examining aspects of mindfulness practice, as well as the role of emotion regulation in various forms of aggression, specifically domestic violence. Casey's clinical dissertation, chaired by Dr. Frank Gardner, entitled "Understanding Domestic Violence..Anger and Emotion Regulation in Batterers" was successfully defended in March and is being prepared for submission for publication. Casey will continue her clinical and research career as a postdoctoral fellow at the University of Massachusetts Medical Center.

Anna Meredith Rehwinkel

B.A., Johns Hopkins University, 2005, Psychology
M.A., La Salle University, 2007, Clinical Psychology

Anna M. Rehwinkel is currently completing her predoctoral clinical internship at The North Dakota Department of Human Services--Southeast Human Service Center in Fargo, North Dakota. There she conducts parental competency evaluations for social services; provides psychological services to homeless individuals with co-occurring severe mental illness and chemical dependence diagnoses; performs juvenile sex offender psycho-sexual evaluations for the courts; completes violence and criminal risk assessments for the state department of corrections; and, participates in psychiatry grand rounds through MeritCare Hospital/UND School of Medicine. Anna's research interests include, but are not limited to: psychosocial and behavioral interventions for individuals with chronic medical conditions, health disparities, patient-physician communication, anger/impulse control disorders, and chemical abuse/dependence. Anna's clinical dissertation, chaired by Erin L. O'Hea, Ph.D., entitled "Post-chemotherapy Cognitive Functioning in Women With Breast Cancer" was successfully defended on April 9, 2010. Anna has presented her research to staff at UMDNJ-Camden, UMDNJ-Piscataway, and has submitted poster presentations and papers to for several upcoming conferences. Anna was previously awarded the position of Chief Extern at the La Salle Community Center for Psychological Services.

Melisa Louise Schneider

B.A., University of Delaware, 2005, Psychology
M.A., La Salle University, 2007, Clinical Psychology

Melisa Schneider is currently completing her clinical internship at the Miami Veteran Affairs Healthcare System. There she provides empirically supported treatments to veterans with a range of psychological and medical disorders. During her time at the Miami VA, she has gained specialized training in geropsychology including palliative care and nursing home consultation. Additionally, she has received training in health psychology and the treatment of substance use disorders. Melisa's research interests include understanding quality of life when coping with medical conditions such as chronic pain. Her clinical dissertation, chaired by Dr. Erin O'Hea, entitled "The Influence of Pain Acceptance on the Relationship between Pain Level and Quality of Life among Older Adults with Chronic Pain" was successfully defended in March. She has presented her research at psychological conferences. Melisa will continue her clinical career by specializing in primary care and mental health integration as a postdoctoral fellow at the Salem Veteran Affairs Medical Center in Salem, Virginia.

Haley Kathryn Solodky

B.A., Villanova University, 2005, Psychology/Sociology
M.A., La Salle University, 2007, Clinical Psychology

Haley Solodky is currently completing her clinical internship at Pacific University's Psychological Service Center. There she provides a variety of treatments including Cognitive Behavioral Therapy and Dialectical Behavioral Therapy to individuals diagnosed with mood, anxiety, and substance use disorders. In addition, Haley provides individual and group treatment to inmates at Oregon's Department of Corrections women's correctional facility. She finds this work particularly interesting as it has allowed her to experience a wider range and intensity of psychopathology as well as cultivate a greater sense of compassion and empathy. Haley also has had the opportunity to provide consultation and supervision to student clinicians in the Psy.D. program at Pacific University which she has found to be rewarding experience. Haley's research interests include topics of substance abuse and mechanisms of change. Her clinical dissertation, chaired by Erin O'Hea, Ph.D., "Predicting University Students' Intention to Change Drinking Behavior: A Consideration of Negative Consequences and the Role of Social Factors" was defended in March.

Notes on Academic Dress

The history of academic dress begins in the early days of the oldest universities. A statute of 1321 required all "Doctors, Licentiates, and Bachelors" of the University of Coimbra to wear gowns. In England during the second half of the 14th century, the statutes of certain colleges forbade "excess in apparel" and prescribed the wearing of a long gown. It is still a question whether academic dress finds its sources chiefly in ecclesiastical or in civilian dress. Gowns may have been considered necessary for warmth in the unheated buildings used by medieval scholars. Hoods may have served to cover the tonsured head until superseded for that purpose by the skullcap. The cap was later displaced by a headdress similar to ones now recognized as "academic." European institutions continue to show great diversity in their specifications of academic dress. However, when American colleges and universities adopted a system of academic apparel a half-century ago, a code was devised for all to follow.

Gowns—The gown for the bachelor's degree has pointed sleeves and is worn closed. The gown for the master's degree has an oblong sleeve, open at the wrist, with the sleeve base hanging down in the traditional manner. The rear part of the sleeve's oblong shape is square cut and the front part has an arc cut away. It may be worn open or closed. The gown for the doctor's degree has bell-shaped sleeves and may be worn open or closed. Bachelor's and master's gowns have no trimmings, but the doctor's may be faced on the front with black or colored velvet and with three bars of the same across the sleeves. If color is used, it is the color distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains, and it matches the edging or binding of the hood.

Hoods—Hoods are lined with the official color or colors of the college or university conferring the degree. The binding or edging of the hood is the color indicative of the subject to which the degree pertains, except that the doctor's cap may have its tassel of gold thread.

Caps—Mortarboards are generally worn as part of the academic costume. The long tassel fastened to the middle point of the cap's top is either black or the color appropriate to the subject. It is customary for degree candidates to wear the tassels on the right front side before degrees are conferred and to shift them to the left when the degrees are awarded. This custom is in some respects a substitute for individual hooding.

For all academic purposes, including trimmings of doctors' gowns, edgings of hoods, and tassels of caps, the colors associated with the different subjects are as follows:

Agriculture – Maize
Arts, Letters, Humanities – White
Commerce, Accountancy,
Business – Drab
Dentistry – Lilac
Economics – Copper
Education – Light Blue
Engineering – Orange
Fine Arts – Brown
Forestry – Russet
Journalism – Crimson
Law – Purple
Library Science – Lemon
Medicine – Green
Music – Pink
Nursing – Apricot
Oratory (Speech) – Silver Gray
Pharmacy – Olive Green
Philosophy – Dark Blue
Physical Education – Sage Green
Public Administration – Peacock Blue
Public Health – Salmon Pink
Science – Golden Yellow
Social Work – Citron
Theology – Scarlet
Veterinary Science – Gray
